

The Future of Software Testing : Exeter University Scholarship Program

Continuing Commitment to Students at Exeter University

13/06/2007

We are delighted to introduce this year's Exeter University Scholarship students, two of whom will be joining Transition Consulting for placements this summer.

From the School of Engineering, Computer Science and Mathematics we have Steffan Williams, a second-year Computer Science student; and Martin Westacott who is in his final year of Computer Science studies.

Our sports scholarship student, Matthew Leahy, is in the second year of his Business and Economics degree course, and is currently 54th in the Lawn Tennis Association Rankings.

All the students have been given the opportunity to take summer placements with us, which will provide valuable work experience for the students and may lead to long-term relationships with Transition Consulting, Ltd.

The scholarships offered at Exeter University are part of a program to further strengthen the links between Transition Consulting, Ltd. and centres of academic excellence worldwide.

About Transition Consulting

Matthew Leahy, Exeter University
TCL Sports scholarship student

"We've been working with TCL for a number of years now and it's very exciting to see the initiatives which we have worked together on, really taking off - such as the Sports and Computer Science scholarship schemes. It's very satisfying to see our students getting a real benefit from the relationships that we develop with businesses and TCL is an excellent example of this"

– Heidi Hallam, Business Relations Manager
University of Exeter

"The extensive relationship we have built with Exeter University has directly helped us in the achievement of our Strategic Business Objectives, and in providing routes for us to channel our commitment to the community in which we work."
